President's Message

Reflecting upon what a tremendous fair we had last year, being blessed with good weather, we are looking expectantly to another great fair, our 153rd
Almonte Fair.

Our directors, committee members and countless volunteers have been working tirelessly to organize shows, events and displays to appeal to rural and urban visitors of all ages.

We are proud that agriculture stretches throughout out fairgrounds from livestock shows, horticulture and homecraft exhibits in the hall to the coming together of a community for three days every July at an exhibition that as a community we should be proud of.

For the past few years, the Education Barn (Barn 3) has been a place where visitors young and old were able to get up close to farm animals, big and small, learning where milk, eggs and wool come from and much more. This building was lost to a devastating fire last September but thanks to the Mississippi Mills Volunteer Fire Department, it was contained to the one building. Though our spirits were dampened at the sight of soggy remains, thanks to the generosity of our surrounding community we have hope again. This attraction will be brought back to life. The building is being rebuilt and the educational attraction will be open at fair time, showcasing this year's theme, "Down in Dairyland". Did you know that dairy cattle are not the only sources of milk? Learn what other animals give us milk at the New Education Barn.

We urge you to support the many sponsors and advertisers listed in this book. Without their support, it would be impossible to present this showcase of our local agriculture and the other fun activities at our fair. A big Thank You to all of them.

While you and your family are making summer plans, we invite you to come to the fair and celebrate agriculture with us.

Alyssa Toshack President

Homecraft President's Message

Here we are again, celebrating another year, our 153rd, "Down in Dairyland" will be an exciting and adventurous one. Come and enjoy the sights and sounds of the Almonte Fair.

Please don't forget to enter your exhibits to become a big part of the fair. We welcome everyone wishing to participate in keeping old traditions and some new ones alive and well. Whether you exhibit, sponsor, volunteer or just want to stroll as a spectator, feel free to enjoy the rural way of life.

The homecraft division would like to thank all our sponsors and volunteers who support and work so hard to keep the Almonte Fair interesting and informative for young and old to enjoy.

So while browsing throughout the fairgrounds, take in the midway, horse and dairy shows and many more activities but don't miss visiting the agricultural hall with all the crafts, flowers, baking, needlework and women's institutes and more!

Remember to tell all your friends and family that the raw talent at the fair comes from the rural community of Almonte and is what makes this event a great success.

Thank you,

Betty Renaud, Homecraft President

Privacy Act

The following quote is from the Privacy Commissioner of Canada regarding the new Privacy Act which was implemented January 1, 2003:

The fact sheet issued by the Privacy Commissioner of Canada points out that the presence of commercial activity is the most important consideration for non-profits. However, fundraising is not a commercial activity, nor is collecting membership fees, organizing club activities, compiling a list of members' names and addresses, or mailing out newsletters. While the act of asking for donations is not subject to the Act, charities and non-profits are still required to seek appropriate consent if selling, bartering, or leasing lists. These are considered to be commercial activities.

Education Barn

The Almonte Fair over the past decade has set aside an area that tries to provide a chance for children and their parents who might have no farm background to see a variety of farm animals and have a chance to ask questions about the source of their food. Local farmers loan their animals for the fair and information about the breeds are posted. Demonstrations such as sheep shearing and milking cows or goats are put on at scheduled times. Each year special exhibits pertaining to the fair theme are part of this area.

As the ratio of farmers to urban dwellers continues to change, the Education Barn will need to expand their exhibits to try to bridge the growing gap.

Come visit us at Barn 3 for an experience you won't soon forget!!
